

kiond®

Trees and humans need each other.
Trees inspire humans to conserve forests.
Forests protect humans.

kiond® is created for humans of all ages to feel close to trees.

In spring, summer, autumn, and winter,
with the different scenery of the forest every day,
you are surrounded by trees, smell the scents,
and touch their branches.

Enjoy various lessons, activities,
and conversation about trees through extraordinary experiences with your five senses.

You will become more curious about trees.

Take your time and enjoy your special encounter with trees!

Trees and humans get along well at kiond®.

kiond® is an interactive facility with trees and forests.

Various programs about nature and activities are provided such as woodworking workshops, activities in the forest, the indoor play area made of timber, and the library café where visitors can find books specialized on trees and forests and picture books.
